RESPONSIVE TEACHING

Reaching students at the teachable moment.
Engaging students in authentic writing and ethical research.

Thousands of schools and universities choose NoodleTools. We support teachers to…

Provide formative feedback:

View and comment into student online notecards and citations - anytime, anywhere.

Monitor accountability in group work:

Understand who added what information, when. Assess individual contributions within collaborative projects.

Use technology to see patterns:

Generate a visual analysis of a student's references and use it to make suggestions about relevance, currency, and balance of sources.

Scaffold writing across disciplines:

Collaborate with cross-curricular colleagues to comment into student research projects.

Promote transparency:

Share your rubrics, reading lists, resources and requirements through your NoodleTools assignment dropbox.

Check originality:

With one click, view source material that the student cited and summarized in a notecard.
